We're pretty sure that lightning (or a blizzard...) won't strike twice. So, once again think of Spring - Spring flowers, more specifically. Our speaker for March will be Amy Kinsey, Nancy R. Turner Landscape Curator for the George Eastman House in Rochester, NY. Amy will be presenting a photo tour of the Eastman House's annual Dutch Connection display, along with many interior views of the mansion. The Dutch Connection, held each year in February, is a tradition based upon George Eastman's custom of ordering thousands of flowering bulbs every year for his house and gardens. Eastman's conservatory and palm house will be filled with spring color throughout the Dutch Connection show, with more than three thousand tulips, hyacinths, daffodils, amaryllis, clivias, begonias, and azaleas in full bloom. Also on display will be orchids courtesy of our own GROS members - another tradition!

Amy Kinsey, the Nancy R. Turner Landscape Curator at George Eastman House since January 2005, has studied and worked in the fields of horticulture, plant genetics, and landscape architecture with a concentration in historic cultural landscape preservation. Since Amy will not be selling plants at the meeting, members are free to bring their own plants for sale or trade. There are currently no announced plans for dinner prior to the meeting. Watch the website for any updates in this regard.

The Show Table will be back, so please don't forget to bundle up your flowering plants and bring them along. We'll see you there!
